Allergen Fact Sheet was discussed and given to PIC	YES
Hepatitis A Fact Sheet and Memorandum were discussed and given to the PIC	YES

Department of Health

Fact Sheet: Allergens

Allergens	NOTE* Allergen Information is provided for Educational Purposes Only. A food allergen is a protein in a food or ingredient that some people are sensitive to. These proteins occur naturally. When enough of an allergen is eaten, the immune system mistakenly considers it harmful and attacks the food protein. This can cause an allergic reaction.

The 8 major allergens:

- Milk
- Eggs
- Peanuts
- Tree nuts such as almonds, walnuts, and pecans
- Soybeans
- Wheat
- Fish
- Shellfish such as crab, lobster and shrimp

When a guest informs you that someone in their party has a food allergy:

- Take all food allergy requests seriously. Refer the food allergy concern to the manager or person in charge. At a minimum, there should be one person available per shift to answer customers' questions about menu items.
- Seek further clarification from the customer. Write down the guest's allergy to record the conversation.
- Don't guess about the ingredients. Does the food contain the ingredient(s) the customer has asked about?
- Check the labels, packaging and recipes.
- Consider the possibility of cross-contact.*
- Always be truthful – Inform the customer so they can decide what to order.

Sources of Cross-Contact:

- Avoid cross-contact from the start by cleaning the dining area with clean soap and water and a clean towel between each guest.
- Cooking oils, splatter, and steam from cooking foods. Use only fresh ingredients, including cooking oil.
- Allergen-containing foods touching or coming in to contact with allergy-free foods (i.e., a nut-containing muffin touching a nut-free muffin).
- Any food equipment used in the processing of allergy-free foods must be thoroughly cleaned and sanitized prior to use.
- All utensils (i.e., spoons, knives, spatulas, tongs), cutting boards, bowls, pots, pans, sheet pans, and preparation surfaces.
- Fryers and grills.
- Wash hands and change gloves after handling potential food allergens.
- Clearly mark or otherwise indicate the order for the guest with the identified food allergy.
- Double check with the chef to make sure you have the right meal when serving the guest. Don't let anyone add garnishes. Carry the special meal to the table separately.
- Check with the guest to make sure they are satisfied with their meal.

Signs and symptoms of a food allergy

Usually develop within about an hour after eating the offending food. The most common signs and symptoms of a food allergy include:

- Hives, itching or skin rash
- Swelling of the lips, face, tongue and throat or other parts of the body
- Wheezing, nasal congestion or trouble breathing
- Abdominal pain, diarrhea, nausea or vomiting
- Dizziness, lightheadedness or fainting

In a severe allergic reaction to food—called anaphylaxis—you may have more extreme versions of the above reactions, or you may experience life-threatening signs and symptoms such as:

- Swelling of the throat and air passages that makes it difficult to breathe
- Shock, with a severe drop in blood pressure
- Rapid, irregular pulse
- Loss of consciousness

If a guest has an allergic reaction call 911 and notify management
